INDUSTRIAL COMBINATION IN ENGLAND

PATRICK FITZGERALD

NCI Library
3 9006 01053888 4

INDUSTRIAL COMBINATION IN ENGLAND

BY
PATRICK FITZGERALD
B. Com.
ASSISTANT EDITOR OF "THE STATIST"

CATHOLIC WORKERS
DIRECTORS LIBRARY
COLLEGE

LONDON
SIR ISAAC PITMAN & SONS, LTD.
PARKER STREET, KINGSWAY, W.C.2
BATH, MELBOURNE, TORONTO, NEW YORK
1927

PRINTED IN GREAT BRITAIN
AT THE PITMAN PRESS, BATH

TO

PROFESSOR T. A. SMIDDY

CONTENTS

PAGE

PREFACE vii

CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION 1

Amalgamations—Growth of combination and association—Industries affected—Types of organization—Systems of price-control—Merits and defects—Effect on efficiency—Conclusion

CHAPTER II

THE TEXTILE INDUSTRIES 8

(a) THE COTTON TRADE: "American" section—Prevalence of competition—Attempts to suppress it—Short-time organization—Price "stabilization"—Conclusions—Egyptian section—Fine Cotton Spinners and Doublers combine—Extent of control—Difficulty of monopolization

(b) THE WOOL AND SILK TRADES: Structure of the industries—Absence of combination—Disruptive effects of foreign competition—The artificial silk trust

(c) THE THREAD COMBINES: Suppression of competition—The Coats' combine—English Sewing Cotton Company—Joint selling—Price policy—Combines' resources and earnings—Conclusions

(d) DYERS' COMBINES: Growth of combination—The Bradford Dyers' combine—British Cotton and Wool Dyers' combine—Dyers' associations—Price policy—Combines' resources and profits—Conclusions

(e) THE CALICO PRINTING COMBINE: Calico Printing combine—Trade association—Price policy—Combine's resources and earnings—Conclusions

(f) THE BLEACHERS' COMBINE: The bleaching merger—Struggle against competitors—Resources and earnings—Price policy—Conclusions

CHAPTER III

THE COAL INDUSTRY 26

Activity of competition—Attempts to restrain it—Collapse of the coal "vend"—The Elliott and Rhondda schemes—Causes of failure—Breakdown of South Wales selling association—Local associations—Amalgamations—Possibility of anthracite trust—Present division of ownership—The Coal Report of 1926—Advocacy of amalgamation—Working results of large and small collieries—Obstacles to amalgamation—Diversity of the industry—General summary

CHAPTER IV

PAGE

THE IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY 36

(a) CONCENTRATION OF OWNERSHIP: Integration of related businesses—Localization of the industry—Leading producers
(b) ASSOCIATIONS: Historical survey—Defective control—Steel Makers' Association—Tinplate Conferences—Galvanized Sheet Makers' Association—Rail Makers' Association—Steel Bar Association—Wrought Iron Association—Light Castings Association—Cast Iron Pipe Association—Bedstead Makers' Federation—Miscellaneous Associations
(c) CONCLUSIONS

CHAPTER V

THE SOAP AND GLYCERINE COMBINE 59

Suppression of competition—The scheme of 1906—Rise of the Lever combine—Absorptions and extensions—The Government report of 1921—Soap associations—Their position in relation to Lever Brothers—Extent of combine's control—Price policy—Comparison of costs, prices and profits—Management of combine—System of control—Finance—Conclusions

CHAPTER VI

THE SALT ASSOCIATIONS. 72

Historical survey—Rise of the Salt Union—Failure to maintain control—Formation of the Salt Manufacturers' Association and the North-Eastern Salt cartel—Prices and profits—Extent of control—Conclusions

CHAPTER VII

THE CHEMICAL INDUSTRIES 79

(a) THE ALKALI COMBINES: Suppression of competition—The United Alkali combine—Destruction of its chlorine monopoly—Rise of Brunner Mond—Present position—Extent of competition—Prices and profits—Conclusions
(b) THE SULPHURIC ACID ASSOCIATION: Organization—Manufacturers' Association—Price policy
(c) THE SULPHATE OF AMMONIA AND NITRATE TRADES: The Sulphate of Ammonia Cartel—Its system of control—Price policy—The Nitrate Producers' Association—Competition of rival fertilizers—Conclusions
(d) THE BENZOL AND DYE COMBINES: The Benzol Cartel—Influence on prices—The Dyestuffs' combine—Its failure—Control of prices—Conclusions

CHAPTER VIII

PAGE

THE EXPLOSIVES COMBINE 92

Historical survey—The formation of the Nobel combine—Foreign alliances—Monopolistic position—Prices, profits and capitalization—Realization of trust economies—Government supervision of prices—Conclusions

CHAPTER IX

THE CHEMICAL "SUPER-TRUST" 99

Structure of the combine—Reason for its formation—Anticipated advantages—Capitalization—Probable effect on prices

CHAPTER X

CEMENT COMBINES 102

Establishment of the Associated Cement combine—Failure to achieve monopoly—Formation of the British Cement combine—Rise of the Cement Makers' Federation—System of control—Foreign and domestic competition—Price policy—Combines' profits, capitalization and management

CHAPTER XI

ASSOCIATIONS IN THE CLAYWARE TRADES . . . 109

Pre-war "price-cutting"—Rise of association—The Greystone Lime Burners' Associations—Obstacles to monopoly—Brick Associations—Their price policy—The Drain-pipe Associations—System of control—The Tile and Pottery associations—Importance of foreign competition

CHAPTER XII

THE NON-FERROUS METALS TRADES 115

(a) THE INTERNATIONAL COPPER ASSOCIATION: Its objects
(b) THE ALUMINIUM CONVENTIONS: Concentration of ownership
(c) INTERNATIONAL ZINC CONVENTIONS: Disruptive influence of the war
(d) LEAD CONVENTIONS

CHAPTER XIII

THE ENGINEERING TRADES 120

(a) SHIPBUILDING COMBINES: Concentration of ownership—Existing mergers—Prevalence of competition
(b) THE ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING ASSOCIATION: Progress of amalgamation—Collusion in tendering—Its inefficacy

PAGE

(c) CABLE MAKERS' ASSOCIATION: The Cable Makers' Association—The Telephone Cable Makers' Association—Control of prices
(d) ELECTRIC LAMP MAKERS' ASSOCIATION: Importance of patents—Control of prices—Severity of foreign competition—The international trade alliance

CHAPTER XIV

THE FOOD INDUSTRIES 126

(a) THE MEAT COMBINES: Structure of the industry—Growth of large-scale organization—The Union Cold Storage combine and the American trusts—The Freight Committee—New Zealand Meat Producers' Board—Report of the Royal Commission on Food Prices—Influence of the combine—Profits and prices—The imposition of Government supervision—Conclusions
(b) THE MILLING ASSOCIATIONS: The Concentration of ownership—The rise of the Spiller combine—Prevalence of competition—Safeguard against monopoly

CHAPTER XV

THE ALCOHOL AND YEAST COMBINE 133

The development of the distilling combine—Its principal absorptions—Obstacles to whisky monopoly—Its control of the industrial spirit and yeast trades—Importance of foreign competition—The combine's price policy—Profits and capitalization—General summary

CHAPTER XVI

THE TOBACCO COMBINES 139

Historical survey—The formation of the Imperial Tobacco Company—Its struggle against the American tobacco trust—The international alliance—Formation of British-American Tobacco Company—Growth and disruption of the American tobacco trust—The progress of the Imperial Tobacco combine—Its policy towards independent firms—The challenge to its supremacy—Relations with the British-American Tobacco Company—Comparative statements of prices, profits and resources—Conclusions

CHAPTER XVII

THE MATCH COMBINE 152

Formation of association—The rise of the Bryant and May combine—Prices and profits—Importance of foreign competition—Conclusions

CHAPTER XVIII

PAGE

THE WALL-PAPER COMBINE 155

The formation of the wall-paper merger—Initial failure—Influence of war conditions—Prices and profits—conclusions

CHAPTER XIX

THE OIL COMBINES 158

The importance of large-scale organization—Structure of the industry—Concentration of ownership—Present distribution of control—Obstacles to monopoly—The policy of the leading groups

CHAPTER XX

THE TYRE COMBINE 161

The rise of the Dunlop Rubber Company—Absorption of related enterprises—Control of domestic production—Importance of foreign competition—Profits and resources

CHAPTER XXI

THE RUBBER STABILIZATION PLAN 163

The Restriction Scheme—The significance of Government interference—The operation of the scheme—Merits and defects—Dutch competition—American protests—The political aspect

CHAPTER XXII

SHIPPING COMBINES 167

Exposure to competition—The progress of amalgamation—Regional influence—Shipping conferences—System of control—Application of the conference system—Obstacles to monopoly—Tariffs and profits—Conclusions

CHAPTER XXIII

RAILWAY COMBINES 174

Historical survey—Amalgamations—Working agreements—The Government grouping scheme—The Railways Act, 1921—State regulation of rates—Conclusions

CHAPTER XXIV

BANKING COMBINES 178

The necessity of large-scale organization—Its consequences—The concentration of ownership—The rise of the "Big Five"—The rivalry between them—Their resources and profits—Danger of collusion

CHAPTER XXV

PAGE

THE EFFICIENCY OF THE TRUST 185

Importance of distinction between economies peculiar to the trust and those pertaining to large but not monopolist organizations—Examination of " monopoly " economies —Dangers of the trust form of organization—The importance of the personal factor—The achievements of trusts —Conclusions

CHAPTER XXVI

CONCLUSIONS 198

General summary—The theory of monopoly—Limitations to monopoly—The elasticity of demand—The possibility of substitution—The formation of new enterprises—The impediment of " concentration "—Professor Levy's Theory—Its variance with present-day conditions —Conclusions regarding " concentration " — Foreign competition—The measurement of its intensity—The importance of Free Trade—The threat of international combinations—The inadequacy of natural safeguards against monopoly—The influence of trusts on prices— Difficulty of measurement—Defensibility of price regulation—Government recommendations—The question of State control

APPENDIX 213

INDEX 229

INDEX

Agricultural engineering combine, 193
Alcohol combines, 133–8
—— overproduction, 133, 137–8
— profits, 136
Alkali combines, 79–84
—— profits, 83
Aluminium Convention, 116–7
Amalgamation, progress of, 1–3
Associations, aims, 208–9
——, criticism, 7, 209
——, international, 205
——, types, 3–7
Associated Cement Co., 102–8

Banking combines, 178–84
—— competition, 179–82
—— profits, 183
—— resources, 178–83
Bedstead Makers' Federation, 51
Benzol combine, 89
Bleachers' combine, 24–5, 191
Bolt and Nut Association, 52
Bradford Dyers' Association, 18–21, 195
Brick associations, 110–11
British Cement Co., 103–8
British Cotton and Wool Dyers, 18–21, 191
British Dyestuffs Corporation, 89–91, 190
Brunner Mond, 79–84, 195

Cablemakers' Association, 122–23
Calico printers' combine, 21–3, 191
Cast Iron Pipe Association, 50–1
Cement combines, 102–8
—— association, 103–5
Clayware associations, 115–16
Coal industry, 26–35
—— anthracite trade, 29–30
—— associations, 27–8
—— Commission's report, 30–34
——, division of ownership, 30
—— profits, 31
Coats, J. & P., 14–18, 195
Copper Association, 115–6
Cotton trade, 8–12
—— spindleage, 8
—— -spinning restriction, 8–11
Courtaulds, 13–14
Crosse & Blackwell, 193–4

Drainpipe associations, 111–13
Dunlop Rubber Co., 161–2
Dyers' combines, 18–21
—— profits, 20

Free Trade, importance, of, 205

Galvanized Sheet Association, 46–7
Glycerine combine, 59–71
Greystone Lime Owners' Association, 109–10
Guest, Keen and Nettlefolds, 52

Harper Bean, 194

Imperial Chemicals, Ltd., 99–101
—— Tobacco, 139–51, 195
Iron associations, 40–53
——, chief producers, 38–40
——, concentration of ownership, 36–40
——industry, 36–58

Lead conventions, 118–19
Lever Brothers, 59–71, 195–6

Match combine, 152–4
Meat combines, 126–31
Milling associations, 131–2
Monopoly, theory of, 198–200
——, obstacles to, 200–7

National Light Castings Association, 48–50
Nitrate association, 7, 87–9
Nobel Industries, 92–8

Oil combines, 158–60

Pooling system, 5–6
Pottery associations, 113–14

Railway Act, 176–7
—— combines, 174–77
—— revenues, 177
Rail Makers' Association, 47
Rhondda scheme, 27
Rubber restriction, 163–6

Salt associations, 72–8
—— Union, 72, 190–1
Shipbuilding combines, 120–1
Shipping combines, 167–8, 172
—— conferences, 168–71
—— profits, 172
Short-time organization, 9–11
Silk trade, 13–14
Soap combine, 59–71, 195–6
Steel associations, 40–53
—— Bar and Strip Association, 47–8
——, chief producers, 38–40
—— cartel, 56–8
——, concentration of ownership, 36–40
—— industry, 36–58
—— Makers' Association, 41–3
Sulphate of ammonia, 6, 85–9
Sulphuric Acid Association, 84–5

Tendering, 5
Thread combines, 14–18
Tile associations, 113
Tinplate conference, 44–6
—— Corporation, 46
Tobacco combines, 139–51
Trust movement, 3
Trusts, advantages, 185–8
——, conclusions, 198–212
——, disadvantages, 188–90
——, efficiency of, 185–97
——, history of, 190–92
——, influence on prices, 207–9
——, question of supervision, 40–2
Tyre combine, 161–2

United Alkali, 79–84, 190

Vickers, 194–5

Wallpaper combine, 155–7, 191
Wire Bar Association, 52
—— Netting Association, 52
Woollen trade, 12, 13
Wrought Iron Association, 48
—— —— Tube Association, 52

Yeast combine, 135–6

Zinc conventions, 117

PRINTED IN GREAT BRITAIN AT THE PITMAN PRESS, BATH
B6—(6071)

