LENDING DEPARTMENT.

No. 21255 Class 330

Extracts from Regulations.

THE Lending Library is open for issue of Books from 10 a.m. till 8 p.m., but is Closed on Sundays, Christmas Day, Good Friday, Bank Holidays, and at 1 p.m. on Wednesdays. It is also Closed the First Wednesday in January, April, July, and October.

Only duly registered borrowers are allowed access to the Library shelves, but their representatives may be admitted at the discretion of the Librarian. The Librarian has full power to limit the number of admissions at any one time.

A Borrower's Card is not transferable. The Card must be presented, or Book returned, on each occasion of visiting the Library shelves.

Books cannot be changed twice during the same day.

All Books borrowed must be returned within 14 days (including Sundays) from the date of issue, under a penalty of one penny for every day during which such Books are detained beyond the 14 days, unless a renewal is effected.

Books may be re-issued to the borrower at the expiration of the 14 days allowed for reading, unless wanted by another borrower.

A borrower who retains a Book beyond 14 days from date of issue shall have notice requesting its immediate return, and shall be required to defray all expenses in connection therewith.

Borrowers are required to use the Books carefully. If any Book is returned in a damaged condition the borrower, or his guarantor, will be required to pay for such damage.

Borrowers are requested to return their Cards when leaving the City, or ceasing to use the Library. Any change of residence made by borrower or guarantor must be intimated to the Librarian within 14 days, under penalty of forfeiture of such Card.

GLOUCESTER PUBLIC LIBRARY

Printed in Great Britain by R. & R. Clark, Limited, Edinburgh.

BY G. D. H. COLE

THE NEXT TEN YEARS IN BRITISH SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC POLICY

8vo. 15s. net

"The book as a whole is distinguished by its consistent, well-proportioned presentation of a very wide variety of economic issues. It should provide systematic education in economic thinking for the multitude who fight shy of the staple economic text-book as out-of-date—or of no date. . . . Economists must welcome Mr. Cole to their ranks. His narrative runs fresh and smooth and his wording of their most cherished theories is clear and often felicitous. And he says many things that wanted saying."—Professor P. Sargant Florence in The Political Quarterly.

"An ambitious and an important book."—The Economic Journal.

"This book has nothing Utopian about it; it is, as its title indicates, a programme of practical, if far-reaching, reforms which Mr. Cole wants Labour to carry out. There will doubtless be readers who will demur to some of its proposals, but none, we think, to question its sincerity, its honesty and the deep feeling about human happiness which gives to its quiet tone and its collected argument a strangely moving power."—The New Statesman.

"Indubitably a book which everybody interested in politics should read, for Mr. Cole is a brilliant economist, whose opinions as to the way the world is going deserve the closest attention."—The Spectator.

"As a survey of complicated facts, and as an illuminating analysis of our difficulties, the book will command the admiration even of those who reject its conclusions."—The Observer.

"Those who are receptive to new ideas will find it delightfully stimulating and provocative. Certainly no reader in this category can fail to be stirred into new mental activity, however vigorously he may disagree with many of Mr. Cole's new conclusions and suggestions."—The Daily News.

"Whatever else we may think of it, this is an important book. . . . It is enormously solid, heavy, packed with argument, description and suggestion. . . . It matters; it will be read by people who make things happen."—Time and Tide.
