

Understanding Social Justice: Paddy Cardiff & The Discipline Of Trade Unionism

Francis Devine

Services Industrial Professional & Technical Union

Irish Labour History Society:
Studies In Irish Labour History 8, 2002

221.88

Understanding Social Justice:
Paddy Cardiff & The Discipline Of Trade Unionism

This pamphlet is the eighth in the Studies In Irish Labour History series. The other seven titles are Anthony Coughlan, C. Desmond Greaves: An Obituary Essay, (1990, reprinted 1991); Manus O'Riordan, The Voice Of A Thinking Intelligent Movement: James Larkin Junior & The Ideological Modernisation Of Irish Trade Unionism, (1995, reprinted in revised and updated form, 2001); Francis Devine, Acting For The Actors: Dermot Doolan & The Organisation Of Irish Actors & Performing Artists, 1947-1985, (1997); Bill McCamley, The Third James: James Fearon, 1874-1924: An Unsung Hero Of Our Struggle, (2000); Anton McCabe, 'Stormy Petrel Of The Transport Workers': Peadar O'Donnell, Trade Unionist, 1917-1920 and Francis Devine, Navigating A Lone Channel: Stephen McGonagle, Trade Unionism & Labour Politics In Derry, (2000); Helga Woggon, Silent Radical – Winifred Carney, 1887-1943: A Reconstruction Of Her Biography, (2000); and Helga Woggon, Ellen Grimley (Nellie Gordon) – Reminiscences Of Her Work With James Connolly In Belfast, (2000).

The Society is extremely grateful to SIPTU (Services, Industrial, Professional & Technical Union) Region 1: Dublin for the generous sponsorship of this pamphlet. Indeed, the work was requested by Jack McGinley, Regional President, and Brendan Hayes, Regional Secretary, and is intended, initially, for consideration by the delegates to their Regional Conference to be held in October, 2002. Here again is labour history not merely as dry record but as informative tool for contemporary trade unionists. The ILHS is pleased to be able to contribute to that process.

In addition to SIPTU's support, the following should be thanked for their assistance in bringing this work to publication: Charles Callan and Ann Riordan for proofing; Irish Times, Charles Callan and Carol Murphy for assistance with sourcing illustrations; Elsie Perdisatt for word processing; Mags O'Brien and Ann Riordan for transcription; and Níall Funge, Christy Hammond, Paddy Murray and all staff at Elo Press for their standard professionalism and care in production.

Francis Devine
Series Editor

Francis Devine is a Tutor in SIPTU College.

Front cover: Paddy Cardiff addressing conference.

Back cover: Frank Cluskey; John Foster; Kevin Lynch; June Nolan, Emerald Girls' Pipe Band; Oliver Connolly, Dublin Corporation; Paddy Cardiff; and Larry Sweetman, Dublin Corporation, PAYE Demonstration, O'Connell Street, 16 December, 1975.

Inside back cover: President Patrick Hillery unveils Oisín Kelly's Larkin Monument, 15 June, 1979, photograph from Hibernia, 21 June, 1979.

NCI Library
3 9006 01015581 2

Understanding Social Justice:
Paddy Cardiff And The Disci

NORMA SMURFIT LIBRARY
NATIONAL COLLEGE
OF IRELAND
This book is due for return on or before the last date shown below.

Irish Labc

Barcode No: 39006010155812
Dewey No: 331.88 IRCOL
Date Input: 9/11/04
Price

First published by
Irish Labour History Society,
ILHS Museum and Archives,
Beggar's Bush, Haddington Road,
Dublin 4
October 2002

Set in Times Roman and designed and printed by
Elo Press Ltd.,
Dublin 8

Irish Labour History Society
in association with
SIPTU Dublin Region

€10

ISSN 1393 - 9823